THE CHRONICLE AND DIRECTORY FOR 1879.

(Which is incorporated "THE CHINA DIRECTORY.")

This Comprehensive Work, now in its SIXTEENTH YEAR of its existence, has been compiled from the BEST and MOST RELIABLE Sources, and no pains have been spared to render it COMPLETE in EVERY RESPECT.

The larger Directory contains the different Treaties and Conventions made by China and Japan with foreign countries, together with various Acts, Ordinances, and Regulations relating to Commerce and Shipping.

The Chronicle and Directory is the only publication of its kind for China and Japan, and it will be found invaluable in all Public, Mercantile, and General Offices.

It is published in two forms—Complete at $5; or, with the Lists of Residents, Port Directors, Maps, &c., at $3.

Orders for Copies may be sent to the Daily Press Office, where it is published, or to the following Agents—

The Daily Press.

HONGKONG, SEPTEMBER 12th, 1878.

We reproduce to-day from the Foochow Herald the account of the destruction of the mission premises at Wu-shih-shan, and our contemporary's remarks on the subject. The unfortunate affair has naturally caused great excitement amongst the European community, who have in public meeting expressed their sincere regret and indignation that the recent outrage at Wu-shih-shan should have been allowed to take place, and their condolence with the Church Missionary Society in their troubles. The evidence adduced by our contemporary seems conclusively to prove that the outrage did not originate with the people themselves, but that, as is almost always the case, the liar were the prime movers in the affair, and were directly and personally concerned in the attack. The liar of Fokien are well known to be perhaps the most bitterly hostile to missionaries of any class in China, and both at Yen Ping-fu and Kien Ning-fu they have recently been guilty of instigating outbreaks of a similar character.

Whether the officials have been guilty merely of apathy in the matter or have, as our contemporary endeavors to show, actually lent their countenance to the perpetration of the outrage, is a matter which requires careful investigation, and the British Consul will no doubt demand the fullest inquiry. It is possible that the officials may have underestimated the danger and that this was the reason more efficient protection was not provided against the lawless mob whom the liar hired to demolish the mission premises. As a rule Chinese officials now-a-days are only too glad to keep out of trouble with the foreigners, well knowing by numerous examples the losses and inconvenience which are likely to follow. In this case the officials would presumably have everything to lose and nothing to gain by lending themselves to an outrage upon foreigners, and it is quite as probable that care was taken to hoodwink them as to the real intentions of the instigators of the riot. To say the least, however, they have been guilty of highly culpable negligence, and for the safety of foreigners in China it is to be hoped that they will be strictly called to account and that the liar who stirred up all this unfortunate trouble will be subjected to condign punishment. The Government of China is strong enough to take measures which shall clearly indicate to the liar that the lives and property of foreigners residing in China under right of treaty are not to be thus wantonly attacked.

POLICE COURT.

11th September.

Before Mr. C. W. GARRAN.

THE SAMPAN BURGLAR.
 San Feng-Tan, a boatman, was charged by Inspector Williams with making fast to the steamer Yong before she was moored, thereby obstructing the navigation of the vessel. Fined fifty cents; in default, two days' imprisonment.

CUTTING AND WOUNDING BY A CHILD.
 A Malacca child, named No. 437, was brought up, on remand, charged with cutting and wounding his wife, a Chinese woman.

CHIEF OF POLICE. A Chinese woman, who lived in the house of the complainant, was called, but she knew nothing relative to the attack.

ALLAH KHAN. Bilkat Cawallah No. 636, said—About the 23rd ultimo, at half past one o'clock, I was in my complainant's room. I frequently visited there. The prisoner was not present at the time, but about half past one o'clock he came to the house in uniform.

THE PRISONER. The last witness, the street door for the prisoner. The door of the room was wide open. On entering he began to abuse the complainant in Chinese. He struck her on the back with his right hand, and she ran into the sitting room and sat down. I told her to go back to her husband. Shortly afterwards he came to the sitting room, and was sitting upon a chair. From beneath a long lamp he took the prisoner out and a chopper and struck her upon the head with it twice. I saw both of them and struggled together for a little time. I then left the room and went downstairs to call the Police. I stood beneath the veranda and the prisoner came down after me and uttered a cry, striking me upon the head with the chopper (which he had taken from the prisoner) and ran away. The prisoner then ran away. I then went to the constable on duty at the Man Mo Temple and reported the matter to him.

THE PRISONER. I called out for the police, and he came down after me and uttered a cry, striking me upon the head with the chopper (which he had taken from the prisoner) and ran away. The prisoner then ran away. I then went to the constable on duty at the Man Mo Temple and reported the matter to him.

THE PRISONER. I called out for the police, and he came down after me and uttered a cry, striking me upon the head with the chopper (which he had taken from the prisoner) and ran away. The prisoner then ran away. I then went to the constable on duty at the Man Mo Temple and reported the matter to him.

THE PRISONER. I called out for the police, and he came down after me and uttered a cry, striking me upon the head with the chopper (which he had taken from the prisoner) and ran away. The prisoner then ran away. I then went to the constable on duty at the Man Mo Temple and reported the matter to him.
